

Part IV

Oracle Transaction Management

Transaction management is the use of transactions to ensure data concurrency and consistency.

- Data Concurrency and Consistency
This chapter explains how Oracle Database maintains consistent data in a multiuser database environment.
- Transactions
This chapter defines a transaction and describes how the database processes transactions.